

Bobcat Pride Day Beautifies school

The first annual Belvidere Elementary School “Bobcat Pride Day” took place on Saturday, September 24, and was a huge success. Numerous parents, students, staff and community members worked together to beautify Belvidere with projects such as painting, landscaping and tending the school grounds. The event was coordinated by the Belvidere PTA with assistance from the Local Investment Commission (LINC). This is the second school clean-up project LINC has been a part of this year in the Grandview C-4 School District. On September 9 volunteers worked to beautify Conn-West Elementary.

The focus of “Bobcat Pride Day” was to strengthen pride in the neighborhood school by bringing school and community members together to complete various beautification projects throughout the day. Belvidere was proud and grateful for the tremendous support received from students, staff, parents and community members. Special thanks goes out to Jennifer Walker (Belvidere PTA President) and LINC for their project organization efforts and participation, Grandview True Value Distribution Center (led by Superintendent Paul Saffell) for providing nearly 20 volunteers and project supplies, Belton Hy-Vee for providing 200 hot dogs for lunch, Grandview McDonald’s for providing lots of orange drink for everyone, Grandview Sherwin Williams for providing paint supplies and Belvidere Heights Baptist Church for providing volunteer help. You can view the project photos and video on the GC-4 Facebook and Twitter page or on the Current News page of the district website at www.csd4.k12.mo.us/currentnews.html.
